Scope: Contemporary Research Topics (Health & Wellbeing) – there after known as Scope (Health & Wellbeing) - is peer-reviewed and published annually in November by Otago Polytechnic/Te Kura Matatini ki Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand.

The journal Scope (Health & Wellbeing) aims to engage in multidisciplinary discussion on contemporary research in the landscape of health. It is concerned with views and critical debates surrounding issues of practice, theory, education, history and their relationships as manifested through the written and visual activities, such as original research, commentary, critical debates and methodological considerations surrounding the concepts and theories of health and wellness. Scope (Health & Wellbeing) seeks to address the matters which concern contemporary researchers, industry, society and educators in their environments of national and international practice. Scope's focus is on building a sense of community amongst researchers from an array of New Zealand institutions with a goal of linking in, and stepping up to a wider international community.

EBSCO Database: Scope: Contemporary Research Topics (Health & Wellbeing) is catalogued on the EBSCO Database in recognition of academic quality and alignment with international peer review processes.

An online version of the journal is available free at www.thescope.org; ISSN (for hardcopy version): 2537-8872

ISSN (for online version): 2537-8880.

Scope: Contemporary Research Topics (Health & Wellbeing) 4, Rural (November 2019)

The fourth issue of Scope: Contemporary Research Topics, (Health & Wellbeing) 4 Rural – there after known as Scope (Health & Wellbeing) 4 Rural – will provide the opportunity for authors from different disciplines to consider, discuss and debate how the 'rural' is understood in relation to health and wellbeing. Papers presented will showcase work drawn from the areas of nursing, medicine, occupational health, sociology, sport, counselling, geography, education, and narrative with a focus on research and community projects which attempt to (re)build and (re)foster the dialogue and engagement of health, wellbeing in the 'rural'.

Submissions for Scope (Health & Wellbeing) Rural are invited from researchers, educators, industry, writers, theorists and historians. Submissions should be sent in hardcopy and electronic format by 30 June 2019 for review and potential inclusion in the annual issue to Dr Jean Ross (Series Editor) at Otago Polytechnic/Te Kura Matatini Ki Otago, Private Bag 1910, Dunedin, New Zealand and jean.ross@op.ac.nz. Please consult the information for contributors below and hardcopy or online versions for examples. Peer review forms will be sent to all submitters in due course, with details concerning the possible reworking of documents where relevant. All submitters will be allowed up to two subsequent resubmissions of documents for peer approval. All final decisions concerning publication of submissions will reside with the Editors. Opinions published are those of the authors and not necessarily subscribed to by the Editors or Otago Polytechnic.

Formats include: editorials; articles; perspectives; essays; imagery and conference reports; reports on and reviews of projects, residencies and publications. Other suggested formats will also be considered; and special topics comprising submissions by various contributors may be tendered to the editors. All material will be published both in hardcopy and online. Submissions should engage with contemporary health practices in ways which may contribute to critical debate and new understandings. High standards of writing, proofreading and adherence to consistency through the APA 6th edition referencing style are expected. For more information, please refer to the APA Manual of Style; and consult prior issues for examples. A short biography of no more than 50 words; as well as title; details concerning institutional position and affiliation (where relevant); and contact information (postal, email and telephone number) should be provided on a cover sheet, with all such information withheld from the body of the submission. Low resolution images with full captions should be inserted into texts to indicate where they would be preferred; while high resolution images should be sent separately. Enquiries about future submission can be directed to jean.ross@op.ac.nz.
