flexible learning 4:
Change Strategies

November 2019

Scope Flexible Learning 4 is peer-reviewed and published annually in November by Otago Polytechnic/Te Kura Matatini ki Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand. Dr Lesley Gill and Dr Ehtasham Ghauri are the editors of this issue.

The series Scope Flexible Learning focuses on contemporary research in the post-discipline field of work-based learning and professional practice. It is concerned with views and critical debates surrounding issues of practice, theory, and history, and their relationships as manifested through the experiences of researchers and practitioners in work based learning and professional practice.

The theme of this issue Change Strategies focuses on exploring the ways in which change is proposed, achieved, negotiated, and experienced by businesses, communities and individuals. Scope is a peer-reviewed open access journal.

An online version of the journal is available free at www.thescope.org;

ISSN (for hardcopy version): 1178-4180 ISSN (for online version): 1178-4199.

Submissions for Scope Flexible Learning 5 are invited from practitioners and researchers in work-based and post-discipline learning. Please consult the information for contributors below and hardcopy or online versions for examples. Peer review forms will be sent to all submitters in due course, with details concerning the possible reworking of documents where relevant. All submitters will be allowed up to two subsequent resubmissions of documents for peer approval. All final decisions concerning publication of submissions will reside with the editors. Opinions published are those of the authors and not necessarily subscribed to by the Editors or Otago Polytechnic.

Formats include: editorials; articles; perspectives; conceptual papers and essays. Other formats will also be considered; and special topics comprising submissions by various contributors may be tendered to the editors. All material will be published both in hardcopy and online. High standards of writing, proofreading and adherence to consistency through the APA (6th ed.) referencing style are expected. For more information, please refer to the APA Manual of Style; and consult prior issues for examples. A short biography of no more than 50 words; as well as title; details concerning institutional position and affiliation (where relevant); and contact information (postal, email and telephone number) should be provided on a cover sheet, with all such information withheld from the body of the submission. Low resolution images with full captions should be inserted into texts to indicate where they would be preferred; while high resolution images should be sent separately. Enquiries about future submission can be directed to scope.
